

All About Bontings!

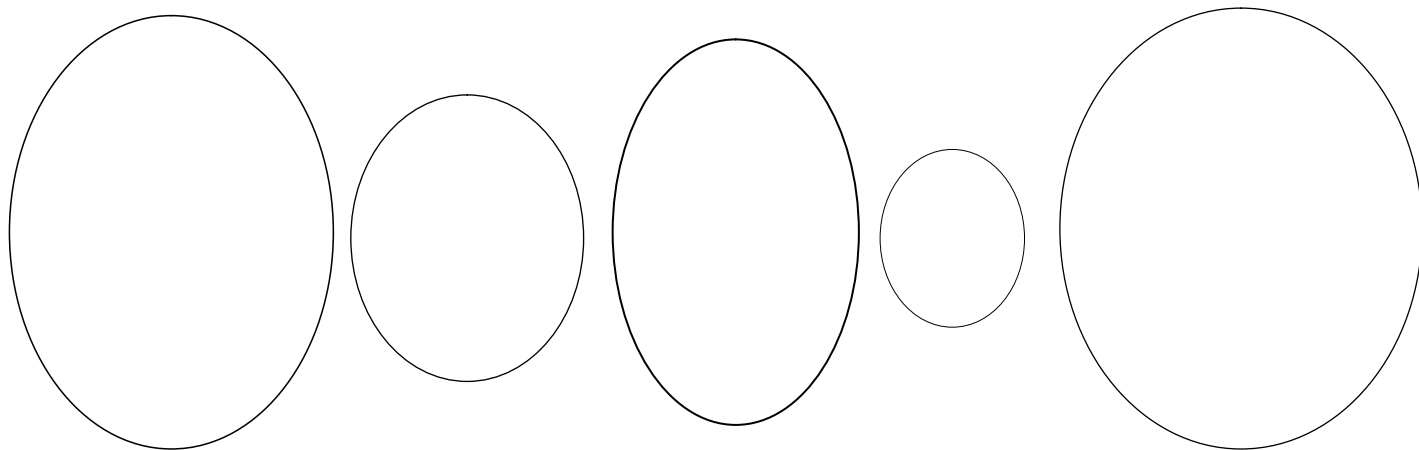

One fine morning Alfie went into his back garden and found a very special stone. He put it in his pocket and he called it Bonting. A lot of children have their own special Bonting. Some have whole collections, beautifully painted. One interesting thing about stones is their shape, and wondering how old they are. You can find lovely Bontings everywhere. If you don't have a garden, the park or the seaside are excellent places to look for them.

Here are some examples of Bontings:

How would you decorate your Bonting?

with love from Shirley Hughes x

Text and illustrations from Alfie's World © Shirley Hughes, 2006